

Decisions ... Decisions

Every day we make hundreds of decisions and make tons of choices. It starts with do I get out of bed, what clothes to wear, what to eat and it goes on and on. Some decisions are more impactful and carry greater consequences. When it comes to the “bigger” decisions, how do you go about deciding?

What do you do when you're facing a decision? Do you approach it logically or simply go with what feels right in the moment? Many of us do the latter and “go with our gut.” This approach isn't necessarily wrong, but you must be sure your gut is informed by the right principles and teachings—all of which can be found in the Scriptures. Every page of the Bible is filled with principles by which the Lord wants us to live. Psalm 119:105 Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light to my path.

The decisions we make today will decide the life we live tomorrow. If this is true, we need to be intentional about what we choose to focus on and commit to in life. Beginning August 7th we will start a new series called “Decisions...Decisions”. This series will focus on how we can make God honoring decisions that prepare us to live the life he has called us to live. So if you are stressing over one of those big choices and life changing decisions... help is on the way. Begin today by praying for God's wisdom and direction.

James says, “If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all generously and without reproach, and it will be given to him” (James 1:5).

In Christ,

Pastor Chris

Love without Commitment is Not Love – Pastor Tim

“And at that time many will fall away and will betray one another and hate one another. Many false prophets will arise and will mislead many. Because lawlessness is increased, most people's love will grow cold...” (Matthew 24:10-12).

Allow me to be perfectly clear: there is no such thing as love without commitment. The measure of one's love is found in the depth of his or her commitment to others. How often have we heard people say, “I loved once, but I was hurt.” Or, “I was committed to the church, but they used me.”

When someone withdraws his commitment to a relationship, he is withdrawing his love. It is not one's commitment that grows cold; it is their love. It may not seem like they have become cold, they may still attend church, sing and look ‘Christian’ but inside they have become hard and separated from others. They have withdrawn from love because their commitment is shallow, they will be easily offended.

Jesus said, “It is inevitable that stumbling blocks come” (Matt. 18:7). In our walk there will be times when even good people have bad days. As long as we live on earth, there will never be a time when “stumbling blocks” cease to be found upon our path. People do not stumble over boulders but over stones---little things.

Have you stumbled over someone's weakness or sin lately? Have you gotten back up and continued loving as you did before, or has that fall caused you to withdraw somewhat from walking after love? To preserve the quality of love in our heart, we must forgive those who have caused us to stumble. Every time we refuse to forgive or fail to overlook a weakness in another, our heart not only hardens toward them, it hardens toward God. We cannot form a negative opinion of someone (even though we think they may deserve it!) and allow that opinion to crystalize into an attitude; for every time we do, an aspect of our heart will cool toward God.

We may still think we are open to God, but the Scriptures are clear: “The one who does not love his brother whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen” (1 John 4:20).

We may not like what someone has done, but we do not have an option to stop loving them. Love is our Love only choice.

What do I mean by love? First, I do not merely mean “tough love.” I mean gentle, affectionate, sensitive, open, persistent love. God will be tough when He needs to be, and we will be firm when He tells us to be, but beneath our firmness must be an underground river of love waiting to spring into action. By love, I mean a compassion that is empowered by faith and prayer to see God's best come forth in the people I love. When I have love for someone, I have predetermined that I am going to stand with them, regardless of what they are going through. I am committed.

We each need people who love us, who are committed to us in spite of our imperfections. The fullness of Christ will not come without Christians standing with each other in love. We are not talking about salvation, but growing in salvation until we care for each other, even as Christ has committed Himself to us.

Many people will stumble over little faults and human weaknesses. These minor things are quickly pumped up by the enemy into great big problems. Oh, how frail are the excuses people use to justify withdrawing from others. In reality, these problems, often with a church or pastor, are a smokescreen which masks the person's lack of love.

No one will attain the fullness of God's purposes on earth without being committed to imperfect people along the way. "Well, as soon as I find a church that believes as I do, I will be committed." This is a dangerous excuse, because as soon as you decide you do not want to forgive, or God begins to deal with the quality of your love, you will blame your withdrawing on some minor doctrinal difference.

The kingdom of God is not based on mere doctrines, it is founded upon relationships---relationships with God and, because of God, with one another. Doctrines only help define those relationships. We are not anti-doctrine, but we are against empty doctrines which seem like virtues but are simply excuses that justify cold love.

An expert in the Law once asked Jesus which was the greatest commandment. His reply was wonderful: " 'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength.' The second is this, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself' " (Mark 12:30-31).

Jesus said that the second commandment is like the first. When we love God, our love for others will actually be like our love for God. The more we unconditionally love God, the more we will unconditionally love others. To those whose attitude is, "I am content with just Jesus and me," I say it is wonderful you found Jesus. But you cannot truly have Jesus and simultaneously not do what He says. The outgrowth of love and faith in Christ is love and faith like Christ's, which means we are committed, even as He is, to His people.

You see, the kingdom of God is most perfectly revealed in our relationships with one another. We are being perfected into a unit (see John 17). To have the kingdom, we must be committed to one another as individuals and as the Church. If Christ accepts us while we are still imperfect, we must also accept one another. The people who possess the kingdom of God in its reality are people who overcome the obstacles of each other's faults. They help each other become what God has called them to be: the living body of Jesus Christ.

Remember, the goal of pulling down the stronghold of cold love is to see the oneness of Christ's body revealed. We will be challenged in this, but if we persist, we will discover the height and depth, the length and breadth of Christ's love. We will become a body filled and flooded with God Himself.

“The Shepherd’s Staff”

Mt Pleasant Elder’s Update | August 2022

In our recent meeting, the elders continued to discuss our study of Acts 20 in regard to how we deal with temptation and sin. In Acts 20:28, Paul challenges us to “guard ourselves and God’s people.” His challenge certainly applies to the Ephesian elders, but also to any believer. The challenge we face each and everyday is to be on guard against the enemy (aka Satan) that threatens our moral integrity through temptations that can lead to sin. The question is, what do we do when threatened? I’m glad you asked. Here are a few ways that the Bible recommends:

First, know what threatens you and be alert. Peter echoed Paul’s message by saying “Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour” (1 Peter 5:8). The temptations that each of us face can be very different from one person to the next. The devil is prepared to pounce when our tripping hazards present themselves, just like a hungry lion searching for the lame gazelle. By being alert and on guard, we are also prepared to flee when temptation comes our way (see 1 Corinthians 6:13).

Second, know God’s Word. Nothing thwarts the devil like the words of our Creator. We even see that Jesus used Scripture when the devil tempted Him while in the wilderness (see Matthew 4:1-11); and He calls us to do the same. Jesus used Deuteronomy 8:3, 6:16 and 6:13 to turn back the tempting words of the devil. By knowing Scripture, we are armed and “able to stand firm against all strategies of the devil” (Ephesians 6:11b).

Finally, seek and surrender to God in all matters. Our Heavenly Father is not surprised by our need, nor is He unprepared. He assures us throughout Scripture that He is with us no matter what. As Jesus ascended into Heaven, He left His followers with the promise that He would be with them until the end of the age (see Matthew 28:18-20). This message of a Heavenly presence is found throughout Scripture and we are called to seek that in our times of being tempted.

James sums it up very well:

God blesses those who patiently endure testing and temptation. Afterward they will receive the crown of life that God has promised to those who love him. And remember, when you are being tempted, do not say, “God is tempting me.” God is never tempted to do wrong, and he never tempts anyone else. Temptation comes from our own desires, which entice us and drag us away. These desires give birth to sinful actions. And when sin is allowed to grow, it gives birth to death. (James 1:12-15)

The devil is cunning but He is not the supreme being, God Is. In times of temptation: be alert, seek God’s Word and seek Him for all guidance.

As we move quickly towards the end of the year, the elders, deacons and admin council will be evaluating staff reviews, nominations, budgets and many other important tasks. Please be in prayer for our leadership as we prayerfully navigate these significant responsibilities.

Women Offering Worship

W.O.W. meets 3rd Saturday of the month

The vision for Mt. Pleasant's Women Offering Worship (WOW) is to equip women who are on the journey of reflecting Christ.

Worship is revealed in different ways, and we celebrate the uniqueness in how God has designed us. We also recognize how easy it is to allow daily life to interfere with a heart that has a posture of worship.

MTP Women

The Mt. Pleasant Women met on July 18 to do a visitation to some of our church family who aren't able to get out of their home as often now. Following the visitation, we went to Mayberry Ice Cream in High Point for food and fellowship.

The next meeting will be Monday, August 22, at 6:30 pm. We will do a Blessing Box and the mission project will be staple food items for The Cooperative Ministry in Thomasville.

Please continue to donate items for the Operation Christmas Child Shoe Boxes. The boxes will be put together in early November, or you can pack a box to be given to the Operation Christmas Child Project. Watch the bulletin for the due date.

Yard Sale info . . .

A Yard Sale will be held at the church on August 27 – 7 am until 12 noon. The money earned will help support the Mt. Pleasant Women's mission endeavors.

If you would like to have a space to sell your merchandise you can rent a space that is the equivalent of two parking spaces for $20.00. You must provide your own tables. To reserve your space or spaces, go on the church website to fill out the form and make payment at the time you fill out the form. You will be able to start setting up your space at 6:00 am.

We will have biscuits, coffee and juice for sell at the yard sale.

If you would like to donate items to the yard sale instead of having a space, they can be dropped off between August 19 – 26. Drop off location to be decided. Watch the bulletin for info.
